SOUTH-CAROLINA.

By the KING.

A PROCLAMATION.

WHEREAS frequent complaints have been heretofore made, that exorbitant FEES have been demanded and taken in the public offices of several of our colonies and plantations in America, for business transacted in such offices; AND WHEREAS it hath been represented to us, that such unwarrantable demands and exactions are still continued in some of our colonies. particularly in the survey and passing patents for lands; AND WHEREAS such shameful and illegal practices, do not only dishonour our service, but do also operate to the prejudice of the public interest, by obstructing the speedy settlement of our colonies: WE have therefore tho't fit, to issue this our PROCLAMATION, expressing our just indignation at such unwarrantable and dishonourable practices. WE do hereby strictly enjoin and require all public officers whatever, in their respective stations, not to demand or receive any other fees for public business, that what have been established by proper authority, upon pain of being removed from their said offices, and prosecuted with the utmost severity of the law.

Given under the great seal of our said province.

CHARLES-TOWN, December 17, 1764.

THE ceſſion of the province of Louiſiana, by France to Spain, is at length a point out of diſpute; the Spaniards being arrived at New-Orleans to take poſſeſſion of the country; and M. d'Abbadie, the French governor, having, in October laſt, cauſed an extract of the French king's letter to him upon that ſubject, to be printed and publiſhed amongſt all the French inhabitants,—a tranſlation of which runs thus:

"Extract of the King's letter to M. d'Abbadie, director-general "and commander for his majeſty in Louiſiana.

"MONS. d'Abbadie. By a ſpecial act, done at Fontainebleau, Nov. 3, 1762, of my own will and mere motion, having ceded to my very dear and beſt beloved couſin the king of Spain, and to his heirs and ſucceſſors, in full property, purely and ſimply, and without any exception, the whole country, known by the name of Louiſiana, together with New-Orleans, and the iſland in which the ſaid city is ſituated; and by another act done at the Eſcurial, November 13*th, in the ſame year, his Catholic Majeſty having accepted the ceſſion of the ſaid country of Louiſiana, and the city and iſland of New-Orleans, agreeable to the copies of the ſaid acts, which you will find hereunto annexed: I write you this letter to inform you, that my intention is, that on receipt of theſe preſents, whether they come to your hands by the officers of his Catholick Majeſty, or directly by ſuch French veſſels, as may be charged with the ſame, you are to deliver up to the governor, or officer appointed for that purpoſe, by the king of Spain, the ſaid country and colony of Louiſiana, and the forts therein depending; likewiſe the city and iſland of New-Orleans, in ſuch ſtate and condition as they ſhall be found to be in on the day of the ſaid ceſſion, willing, that in all time to come they ſhall belong to his Catholic Majeſty, to be governed and adminiſtered by his governors and officers, and as poſſeſſed by him in full property, without any exceptions. At the ſame time, I hope for the proſperity and power of the inhabitants of the colony of Louiſiana, and promiſe myſelf, from the friendſhip and affection of his Catholic Majeſty, that he will be pleaſed to give orders to his governor, and all other officers employed in his ſervice, in the ſaid colony, and in the city of New-Orleans, that the eccleſiaſticks and religious houſes who have the care of the pariſhes and of the miſſions, may continue to exerciſe their functions, and enjoy the rights, privileges and immunities granted by their ſeveral charters of eſtabliſhment: That the ordinary judges do continue, together with the ſuperior council, to adminiſter juſtice according to the laws, forms, and uſages of the colony: That the inhabitants be preſerved and maintained in their poſſeſſions: That they be confirmed in the property of their eſtates, according to the grants which have been made by the governors and directors of the colony, and that all the ſaid grants be holden and taken as confirmed by his Catholic Majeſty, even though not as yet confirmed by me. Hoping, above all, that his Catholick Majeſty will be pleaſed to follow on his new ſubjects of Louiſiana the ſame marks of proteſtion and goodwill, which they enjoyed while under my dominion, and of which the misfortunes of war alone have prevented their experiencing greater effects: I command you to cauſe my preſent letter to be recorded in the ſuperior council of New-Orleans, to the end that the ſeveral ſtates of the colony may be informed of its contents, and may have recourſe thereto when neceſſary. And this preſent being for no other purpoſe, I pray God, Monſ. d'Abbadie, to have you in his holy keeping.*

"And underneath, LE DUC DE CHOISEUL."

Whether "the date of the act of ceſſion, being the ſame with that of the preliminary articles of peace, ſhows, that our peace-makers were not ſo unmindful of the Britiſh intereſt in America, as the ſowers of ſedition would have us believe" [See THE SOUTH-CAROLINA AND AMERICAN GENERAL GAZETTE, of the 14th inſtant:] Or, whether the exceſſive diſtreſſes the unparalleled ſucceſſes of his Majeſty's arms in all quarters of the globe involved the French in, induced their King to make a private ſacrifice of Louiſiana to Spain, to obtain that court's acquieſcence in the preliminaries, then abſolutely neceſſary to ſave his country from apparent total ruin, and required by the family-compact: Or, whether the ceſſion of Louiſiana had its foundation in other cauſes; does not become us to determine. "It is" however "well worth no-"tice," that, tho' the act is dated the 3d of Nov. 1762, and was accepted the 13th of ſame month, yet the French King's order to M. d'Abbadie, is not dated earlier than the 21ſt of April 1764; and alſo, that, tho' the writers in defence of "our peace makers" are innumerable, and have taken all imaginable pains to point out even the minuteſt and moſt diſtant advantage that might be derived, from the treaty concluded during the prime-miniſtry of the right hon. John earl of Bute, yet, not one of them all, except one miniſterial penman, has preſumed to aſcribe this ceſſion to the Britiſh miniſtry or plenipotentiaries. Perhaps he is to be rewarded for this new and genuine ebullition of his zeal, by the gift of ſome lucrative poſt in Eaſt or Weſt-Florida. But be this as it may, let us thank God, for the removal of ſuch dangerous neighbours, for all broils with Indians muſt of courſe ceaſe! And let us pray, that the glorious proſpect of perfect tranquility which now preſents itſelf to his Majeſty's faithful American ſubjects, may never more be interrupted — even tho' the ſowers of ſedition behind the ſcenes, by cunningly adviſing, or procuring to be adviſed, the liberties of the colonies to be abridged, their commerce to be cramped, &c. ſhould continue to uſe their utmoſt endeavours to foment and create jealouſies and diſtruſts of and amongſt us, as the only or moſt probable means of weakening our well-known affection to the perſon and family of our preſent truly gracious Sovereign of the line of Brunſwick, and our ſtrong attachment to the real intereſts of our mother-country; which perhaps, by them, may be thought practicable, as well as a ſtep abſolutely neceſſary to be taken, before they can entertain the leaſt hopes of completely attaining what they ſo ſtrenuouſly attempted in the years 1715 and 45, if ever another favourable opportunity ſhould offer, which God forbid!

When the Spaniards came to New-Orleans, M. d'Abbadie, acquainted the French Officers, that "the King had no further occaſion for them, & they were at liberty to enter into the King of Spain's ſervice:" But it is tho't, from the natural diſlike the people of thoſe two nations have to each other, that they will remove, with the French inhabitants, to Cayenne.

The lands in the province of Weſt-Florida, are to be granted to all perſons that will ſettle there, in like manner, and upon the ſame terms as in Eaſt-Florida. His Excellency governor Johnſtone, in a proclamation dated Penſacola, Nov. 1ſt, 1764, deſcribes the country as follows, viz.

He tells us, "That it is bounded to the ſouthward by the Gulph of Mexico, including all iſlands within ſix leagues of the ſea-coaſt, from the river Apalachicola, to lake Pont-Chartrain; to the weſtward by the ſaid lake, the lake Maurepas, and the river Miſſiſippi; to the northward by a line drawn due eaſt, from the confluence of the Miſſiſippi, and the river Yaſoo, which lies in thirty-four degrees north latitude, to the river Apalachicola, or Chatahoochee; and to the eaſtward by the ſaid river, containing in all twenty-four ſquare degrees of land.

That "the ſoil for ſome miles back from the ſea-coaſt, conſiſts of alternate ſtrata of ſand, ſtone, and clay" which, "with the flat face of the country, ſeems to indicate that the ſea has in a courſe of ages, or through ſome convulſion in nature, retired from it." That "further back, and along the banks of its numerous rivers, the ſoil is rich, capable of producing wine, oil, ſilk, indigo, tobacco, rice, and all the fruits of ſouthern climates, together with thoſe of more northern latitudes." And that "live-oak, cedar, and pines of the beſt kind, cover the banks of every river and bay;" which "can with great advantage be tranſported to all the Weſt-Indies."

That, "ſuperior to the advantage of the ſoil, is, the peculiar ſituation of the province; the coaſt being indented with numerous bays and very commodious harbours, ſhut out from every wind;" and "the navigation along the coaſt eaſy and expeditious, having certain ſoundings, regular currents, and moderate winds." That "the bay of Penſacola is the largeſt and moſt commodious for ſhipping; the depth of water on the bar is found to be three and three quarters fathoms at low water, and four at high water; it extends more than forty miles within land, and branches out into many navigable lagoons and arms of the ſea, which receive a number of conſiderable rivers and brooks of the freſheſt water in the world."

That "nature ſeems to have intended to place the ſeat of commerce in that bay. And now New-Orleans is ceded to the Spaniards, it muſt ſerve as a means to introduce our commodities to the Spaniſh dominions without a rival, and ſo in a manner deliver to us the key of the wealth of Mexico." That "another advantage from the removal of the French from the Miſſiſippi, is, that the Indian trade on its banks from the Illinois downward, and even that of all the other nations, except the Cherokees, Catawbas, and a few of the Lower-Creeks, muſt center there."

That "it may be alledged, the ſoil upon the banks of the bay of Penſacola, is too ſterile for the ſituation of a great town:" But "cities do not ſo much depend upon the produce of the ground immediately around them, as upon eaſy water communications to where the neceſſaries and luxuries of life grow:" That "Penſacola in a few hours can receive the produce of a circumference of 150 miles, ſuch is the width, and ſo numerous are the branches of its very commodious Bay.

That "all the bays and lagoons of Florida are full of the moſt delicious fiſh.

That "what above all recommends Weſt-Florida, is the healthineſs of the climate; no country perhaps on the face of the earth poſſeſſes ſo pure, ſerene and temperate a ſky, viſited with the agreeable viciſſitudes of ſeaſons, but none of them in extreme. The heat of ſummer is moderate by never failing breezes, which blow in the morning from the land, and from the ſea after the ſun is up.

That "upon the whole, whether we regard the ſituation or the climate, WEST-FLORIDA, bids fair to be the EMPORIUM, as well as the moſt pleaſant part of the new world."

The beginning of laſt week, the right hon. Lord Adam Gordon, arrived in town, by land, from Georgia. His lordſhip is only a Colonel, not Major-General, as was copied from the General Gazette.

Thurſday returned from the Northward, where he had been for the recovery of his health, Adam Daniel, Eſq.

Friday put in here very leaky, a Daniſh ſhip from St. Croix, called the Friendſhip, James Ogilvie commander, laden with ſugar, and bound for Copenhagen. She put to ſea the 24th of November, and ſprung a leak the 28th, making eighteen inches water every hour.

Same day arrived from London, the ſhip Dragon, Capt. Hammett, with 140 Palatines.

Yeſterday alſo arrived the ſhip Union, Capt. James Smith, from London, with 180 more Palatines.

The ſhip Planters-Adventure, Capt. Miles Lowley, was to follow theſe ſhips in ten days, with 35 more of theſe people, and the baggage of the whole.

The brigt. Phillis, Capt. Gwinn, which ſailed for Boſton on friday laſt, carried away her main-maſt the ſame day, ſprung a leak, and at night had five feet water in her hold, and yeſterday put back here.

The army formed to act againſt the Indians on the ſide of d'Etroit, under the command of Col. Bradſtreet, broke up their camp at Sanduſky the 18th of October; having done little more than engage ſome of the Upper Nations to declare againſt the Shawaneſe and Delawares.

On the other hand, the army under the command of Col. Bouquet, which went from Pittſburg about the 8th of October, had marched as far as Tuſcarawas, in ten days, and lay encamped there on the 20th. The Delawares and Shawaneſe had endeavoured to amuſe the colonel; but he well knowing how little their profeſſions are to be truſted, intended to continue his route into the heart of their country, where, if he grants them peace, they are firſt to deliver up about 400 captives.

TO BE SOLD very reasonable,

A TRACT of land, containing seven hundred and fifty acres, situated very pleasantly on Savannah river, within eight miles above the town, on the mouth of Augustine creek, joining the lands of Mr. Wylly, Augustus Cuthbert, Bullach and Vaw Munch; the said land contains a large tide-swamp, and the rest is chiefly pine land, fit for sawing,—as the mouth of the creek is within the said land, it has a very great conveniency for building of mills of any kind. Also, A swamp of between four and five hundred acres, situated at the head of river, about six miles from Savannah, without Mr. Baker's barony, exceeding good for corn and indico, also some prime land. A sloop may load at the landing, and any vessel may come within two miles of it; the land is bounded on a creek on which a saw-mill is now erected. It has a house, barn, garden, and a great number of mulberry and fruit trees; about fifty acres are under a good fence, and it never yet wanted water in the driest season to make indico, the whole an exceeding healthy and pleasant situation.

Likewise one hundred acres in Purrysburg township, about three miles above the town, joining east on lands to which no owner appears, west on Savannah river, a large body of pine barren, supposed to be vacant, is contiguous, and it has the advantage of a bluff that never overflows. Also, One hundred and twenty-seven acres right opposite, exceeding rich land, with a convenient place for a settlement, and well stocked with oak and cypress. These two tracts to be sold together.

Whoever inclines to purchase may treat with Mr. John Hodsden, in whose hands the plats are to be seen. c. 72.
